

AASA NATIONAL PRINCIPAL SUPERVISOR ACADEMY

AASA has partnered with the University of Washington Center for Educational Leadership to bring CEL's Principal Supervisor Professional Development Program to all central office leaders who support principals' instructional leadership growth as their primary responsibility.

✓ By joining the AASA National Principal Supervisor Academy, participants will benefit through:

Understanding and creating the structures and routines necessary to improve the performance of principals as instructional leaders.

Building and protecting calendars.

Developing effective 1:1 work with principals.

Developing effective principal professional learning communities.

Using a teaching approach as the primary lever for improving principal performance.

Communicating, clearly and continually, the work between the principal supervisor and principals.

Assessing, gathering and using evidence to support and monitor principal progress.

Jointly developing a focus of work with each principal and utilizing learning and planning guides to focus their work together.

Reflecting upon, setting goals for and monitoring progress of their own development as effective principal supervisors.

The program will meet three times in person in Alexandria, Virginia: July 25-26, 2018; November 7-8, 2018; and April 10-11, 2019. The program will be limited to 60 participants.

The cost of the program is $5,000, which includes instruction and materials for three two-day meetings, two virtual workshops, and four hours of virtual coaching per participant during the 10 months of training.

Upon successful completion of this program, participants will receive an AASA/CEL diploma of completion and professional achievement, a valuable addition to their professional portfolio.
